

Write a Java function that takes an array of integers and returns the maximum absolute difference between any two elements in the array. For example, given the array [2, 4, 1, 16, 7, 5], the function should return 15, since the maximum absolute difference is $|16 - 1| = 15$.